Execution of a Polish Revolutionist at Warsaw-Scientific Torture in Burmah.

Sr. Petersburg. January 29.—The Journal de St. Petersburg says that the report recently published of the discovery of a Nihilist resort opposite the Annitchkoff pelace, the arrest of seveniesn persons in connection thereseventeen persons in connection therewith and the se zure of a number of bombs and other explosives in the house is untrue. It says the story was fabricated by the correspondents of Berlin and Vienna newspapera.

Revolutionist Executed.

WARSAW, January 29.—Kunitzky Bardousk, a justice of the peace, and Petruszynsky and Oszowsky, recently condemned to death for belonging to a Polish social revolutionary associa-tion styled the Proletariate, were exe-cuted to-day. Lury, a captain of engineers, and Schnanss, a private gen-tieman, also condemned to death, bad their sentences commuted to twenty years servifude in Siberia.

A Garter Brought Into Court. London Times: A singular trial has just taken place before the criminal tributal of Colemar. There is a tradi-tional usage in Alexes, evidently a relie of ruder times, that at the close of a marriage fast the bride gives one of her carters to the bridegroom's best man, who forthwith divides it into pieces, which are divided among the

The niece of the Burgomaster of Orschweiler, near Schletteiadt, was lately married to a resident of Utten-The chief public authorities of all three places were present at the fes-tivities, and the traditional ceremony was observed. The garter happened to be of silk ribbon, striped red, white and blue. Following the neual custom, the gent'emen wore their fragments of the garter pinned at the coa: buttonhole. One of the guests, the propriet it of a hotel at Schlettstadt, happening be at the railread station of that town next morning, was upbraided by the guard of the train for his disloyalty in flaunting the French tri-color in a German town, and so endanger ing the public peace.

The public prosecutor heard of the affair, and at once instituted criminal proceedings against the male guests, including the three burgomasters, for publicly displaying fragments of the offending garter. He based his pro-ceedings on an ordinance passed by the French provisional government in the revolutionary period of 1848, for-bidding the display of emblems calculated to disturb the public peace; but the Colmar tribunal acquitted the accused on the ground that all the sircumstances negatived the sugges-tion that they intended to make a political demonstration, or to irritate German feeling by displaying a French emblem. Much ridicule has been heaped on the public prosecutor for falling back on an obsolete French erdinance to punish a supposed dis-play of affection toward France.

Scientific Torture in Burmab.

London, January 27.—The provost marshal at Mardalay has had lately to superintend the execution of numof Burmese Dacoits. Not content with having them shot down in the ordinary business fashion, the provo t marshai, who has a morbid taste for amateur photography, has on several occasions added unspeakable torture to his victim's death-pangs by delay-ing the interval between orders to "present" and "fire" long enough to allow him to take two or three negatives with the camera he carries about with him. He pleads scientific interest as an excuse for his barbarity, but so far he has nothing even scientific to show in self-defense, for, being a poor hand at photography, his atempts to fix the horror and anguish of violent death on his negatives has been abortive. The prevost marshel's methods so leisurely that the absence of results is surprising. Having had the prisoners drawn up in line against a wall, he would station the firing platoon before them and get the camera into position and calmly prepare his plates. The officer commanding the soldiers was instructed not to give the fatal signal until the plate was ex-posed. Thus the most interesting negatives were obtained at the very moment of the prisoner's death agony. On one occasion he varied his scientific sports by ex'orting incriminating evidence against the Burmese Minister from a native named Wooguet, by threatening him with execution. Five Dacoits had been shot in Woognet's presence. He himself was then placed against the wall, the platon were ordered to level their guns at him, and he was thus cowed into making the desired statements, after the fashion which prevailed in the Tower of London in the sixteenth contrary. don in the sixteenth century. The British Commissioner declined to act on such evidence. The provost marshal's brutality so exasperated the English and native spectators that it was only the presence of the troops which prevented the attempt to lynch him. In deference to the indiguant protest, a rigid inquiry has been ordered, and this modern inquisitor will take no more negatives. The new govment will undoubtedly rigidly in othre into these facts. It is no wonder quire into these mets. It is no was ordered the Times correspondent was ordered away from camp.

Terrific Collision on the Baltimore and Ohio,

CLEVELAND, O., January 29.—A special from Tiffin says: At 12:45 o'clock Friday morning, as the east-bound passenger train was rushing along at a speed of forty miles an hour about one mile west of Chicago Junction, it ren into the rear of a freight train on the main track, going in the same direction. The shock was terrific. The engine of the passenger train, the baggage-car, two passenger coaches, the freight caboose and about a dozen freight cars were wrecked and hurled into a mass. The noise and cries of the injured soon added to the confusion. The Baltimore and Ohio officials are very reticent, and little can be learned from them. L. Vandelier, fireman of the passenger train, was instantly killed, and found dead under died. Others may die. A number of died. Others may die. A number of others were injured, but their names are unknown. None of the paragers were killed. The loss will probably reach $25,000. The Baltimore and Ohio trains go to Sandusky and then down the Indianapolis, Blomington and Western to this place. The accident was the fault of the conductor of the freight train, who had neglected to place the danger signa's on the rear of the train. the rear of the train.

THE OHIO CENATE.

A Compromise Agreed Upon by the Two Cancuses.

COLUMNUS, O., January 29.—The joint Senate met at 10 o'clock a.m., and without the transaction of business, adjourned to to-morrow morning, by previous agreement of the two-factions. The proposition of the Con-ference Committee, which has in charge the arrangement of compronise measures, was submitted to the Democratic caucus this morning and ratified. It has also been agreed to by the Republican caucus. The proposition is that a special committee of six members of equal numbers politically, shall make the investigation of the Hamilton county contest cases and report specific findings to the Senste, The Conference Committee resumed business at 10:30 o'clock, and expect to have something further to report to the respective caucuses by evening.

The fight in the committee now will be one of the main issues, which is the rules which shall prevall in the contest cases, and whether in dispos-ing of the report to be made by the Investigating Committee, three of the Hamilton county members shall have the privilege of voting on the fourth. The differences are so great between the sides on this point that it may result in killing 'all compromise measures which have been proposed.

GEN. SHERMAN CORNERED

WHAT HE THOUGHT OF GRANT AND SMITH.

Convicted of Either a Very Unfortunate Mistake er a Willful Falsehood.

New York, January 29 .- The Even ing Post will print a new letter from Gen. J. B. Frye to the editor of the North American Review, relative to the controversy between Gen. Sherman and Gen, Fry as to the former's re-mark comparing Grant with Gen. C. F. Smith at the time of Donelson. It closes with a copy of a letter written by Gen. Sherman last September, in which the criticised phrase is to be

THE LETTER. New York City, January 29, 1856.; To the Editor of the North American Re-

Sm-In an article called "An Acquaintance with Grant," published in your December number, I quoted Gen. Sherman as baving said, since Grant's death, that "had C. F. Smith lived, Grant would have disappeared to history after Donelson." I cited this speculative opinion from the highest officer in the army, thinking it would illustrate and lend interest to the general proposition I asserted concerning the effect of chance upon the soldier's career. I do not see that the speculation is injurious to Gen. Grant, Geu Sherman, or any body else. Gen. Sherman, however, made my citation of it the subject of a correspondence with you, in consequence of which you discussed my statement in your January number, and announced that Gen. Sherman had called upon you to repudiate the sentiment attrib-uted to him. This was followed by a letter from Gen. Sherman to the Rev. George Morrison, dated January 12th, published in the daily papers of the 16th, in which the General says: "It is utterly impossible that I could have written or spoken the words as quoted in the December number of the North American Review," and that "I could have written the positive expression that had C. F. Smith lived Gen. Grant would have disap, eared from history, is an impossibility," adding: "I am confident in good time we shall learn on what authority or hearsay this pub-lication is based." The issue between Gen. Sherman and me is whether or not I quoted him correctly. In your February number—for an early copy of which I thank you—Gen. Sherman, says, coupled with much personal abuse of me, that I "invented the quotation for the purpose of questioning it," and that I "when cornered will dodge the issue." In view of the foregoing facts, I need make no apology to the public for feeling called upon to establish the validity of the quotation I made. Gen. Sherman himself is my authority. The remark that had C. F. Smith lived Gen. Grant would have disappeared to history after Donhave disappeared to history after Donelson was written with the General's hand over his signature, word for word as I gave it. That there may be no ground for misunderstanding concerning the language used and the connection in which it was employed, I append a verbaim paragraph from a letter in Gen. Sherman's hand writing dated September 6, 1885. As intimated in Gen. Sherman's letter to Mr. Morrison, there is a marked dif-Mr. Morrison, there is a marked dif-ference between speculating "what might have been had Gen. Grant gone to the rear and C. F.
